Weinberg Village Resident Turns 100 Years Old

Tampa, Florida (Tuesday, February 24, 2009): On February 23rd Weinberg Village Assisted Living Resident, Sol Lieber, turned 100 years old. Sol Lieber was born in Brooklyn, New York in 1909. However, he left New York at an early age and spent most of his life in Connecticut. He was an accomplished mechanic and owned a garage service station for many years. He was married for over 50 years to his beautiful wife Beatrice and raised two lovely children, Susan Rosenthal and Michael Lieber. He has three grandchildren, one great grandchild and one due in May. As a World War II veteran, he served as a tank commander. He had a great tenor voice and sang in a choir with his four brothers as a young man. He has been a resident at Weinberg Village for six years and enjoys attending the weekly concerts and soaking up the sun on the garden terrace. Sol turns 100 on February 23rd and does not take any medication at all. He attributes his longevity to a very healthy lifestyle including taking part in the great health and wellness programs offered at Weinberg Village.
